A MAGIC ISLE

Hardly three hours and a half from Los Angeles via the Southern Pacific to San Pedro and the Wilmington Transportation Co., thence is an island twenty-two miles long, a park in the Pacific, a mountain range at sea; a bit of the world by itself, which in its climate, natural beauties and opportunities for sport, comes as near perfection as one can find. It abounds in beautiful and lofty mountains, deep gorges, stupendous rock cliffs and precipices. Here is the home of the famous leaping tuna, the most active game fish in the world. Sea bass and Yellowtail are also among the game fish. For boating and bathing the Island is unexcelled. Hunting and golf are among the sports. Good hotels. Tent life with hotel or camping facilities are unsurpassed.

Santa Catalina

Quickest service via Southern Pacific.
