

Seattle-Vancouver by E & N Railway and Ferry

For a holiday suggestion that lets you leave your car behind, climb aboard the Princess Marguerite in Seattle headed for Victoria. On arrival, spend the day visiting the wonders of this marvelous city that has all the reminiscence of England. Choose from a variety of accommodations — including the world famous Empress Hotel, and spend the night. The next day, board the E & N Dayliner (daily service except Sunday) and enjoy the leisurely trip north to Nanaimo where you connect with the Princess of Vancouver. All told, a perfect mini holiday. Works from Vancouver to Seattle, too. For further information, contact your CP Rail ticket agent.

Bus Connections to Principal Points on Vancouver Island

In Nanaimo, the Princess of Vancouver docks within walking distance of the Vancouver Island Coach Lines' terminus. From Nanaimo there is frequent service, with stops at intermediate points south to Victoria, west to Port Alberni and north to Campbell River. All service is by modern, air-conditioned buses over first-class highways. Further information and timetables are available from your CP Rail ticket agent or the Purser aboard the Princess of Vancouver.

ALASKA

Inside Passage Cruises - Summer '74

Come and sail the Unfrozen North

It's a country of summer (average temperature 65°F!) days that never, never seem to end. It's the Land of the Midnight Sun. It's the most delightfully unusual holiday. 7½ days and 2,152 miles of excitement for as low as $367 (sharing), including oil surcharge.

Cruise from Vancouver to Ketchikan, Skagway, Juneau, Prince Rupert and Alert Bay, through sparkling blue waters, around green islands, into friendly gold rush ports.

Cruises depart Vancouver May 31, June 8, 16, 24, July 2, 10, 18, 26, August 3, 11, 19, 27, September 4.

See Alaska aboard the Princess Patricia.
