INFORMATION FOR PERSONS ENTERING THE UNITED STATES FROM CANADA

Immigration Regulations

United States citizens do not require passports when reentering the United States after a visit to Canada. It is recommended, however, that they be in possession of such personal papers or other documents as may be helpful in establishing that they are citizens of the United States. The most common documents which help to establish United States citizenship are birth certificates showing place of birth, baptismal certificates, naturalization certificates, and United States passports, valid or expired.

Passports and visas are waived for Canadian citizens and British subjects who reside in Canada and who are entering temporarily across the Canadian border. Such persons may be admitted as visitors for an appropriate period not to exceed six months. All other aliens seeking to enter the United States are required to be in possession of a valid passport and appropriate visa issued by an American Consul.

Aliens returning to legal residence in the United States must be in possession of their Alien Registration Receipt and Border Crossing Card (FORM I-151) or a valid re-entry permit.

Customs Regulations

Residents of United States may take into Canada their wearing apparel and other personal effects and upon return to United States are entitled to have the same admitted free of duty. Residents of United States upon return must declare all articles acquired abroad, in their baggage, on their person or to be forwarded to them, whether by purchase, by gift, or otherwise, and whether dutiable or free of duty.

Each returning resident of the United States is entitled to an exemption from duty on articles up to a total of One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) in value acquired outside the United States under the following conditions, if declared when the resident arrives at the United States port of entry:

1. Provided they have been outside the United States over forty-eight hours.
2. Provided they have had no previous exemption for the past thirty days.
3. Provided the articles are not intended for sale, or as an order for others, or prohibited by law.
4. Provided they are acquired as an incident of the foreign journey.
5. Foodstuffs, cigarettes, tobacco, 100 cigars, and not over one wine gallon of distilled spirits, wines or malt liquors (provided the quantity is not prohibited by State law) may be included in this exemption.
6. Each member of a family is entitled to the $100 exemption for articles acquired abroad of the character described in the third proviso to Paragraph 1798, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, subject to the conditions prescribed therein. Articles belonging to one passenger cannot be included in the exemption of another, except that when members of a family residing in one household travel together on their return to the United States, the exemptions to which the several members of the family are entitled may be grouped and allowed without regard to which member is the owner, provided that the grouped exemption shall not include that of any person who is not entitled to such an exemption, nor be allowed for the property of any such person.

The owner of valuable effects of foreign origin, sealskin garments, plumage, or other articles, prior to his departure from the United States, may make an application to the collector or his representative on Customs Form 4455 for the registration of such articles to facilitate their identification on return to the United States.
