99. Extract from the Regulations of the Louisiana Public Service Commission:

When a train stops or is delayed under circumstances in which it may be overtaken by another train, the flagman must go back immediately with stop signals a sufficient distance to insure full protection. When recalled he may return to his train, first placing two torpedoes on the rail when the conditions require it. The front of a train must be protected in the same way when necessary by front brakeman. If the front brakeman is not available the fireman must act in his place.

A sufficient distance to insure full protection requires that flagman shall go back to a point one-fourth mile from the rear of his train, where he must place one torpedo on the rail. He must then continue to go back at least one-half mile from the rear of his train and place two torpedoes on the rail not more than two rail lengths apart; he may then return to within one-fourth mile from the rear of his train, and remain there until recalled. Should a train be seen or heard approaching he must remain until it arrives. When he comes in he will remove the torpedo nearest to train, but the two torpedoes must be left on the rail as a caution signal to a following train.

The recall of flagman is the most critical period and when there is not a clear view of at least one-half mile, train must be moved forward a sufficient distance to insure safety before flagman is recalled. During foggy or stormy weather, or in the vicinity of obscure curves or descending grades, or when other conditions require it, the flagman will increase the distance. When the train is flagged the enginemen must obtain a thorough explanation of the cause, stopping if necessary.

(a) Between sunset and sunrise the flagman shall immediately after he leaves his train light a red fusee and carry it with him back one-quarter of a mile to the point where he places the first torpedo and must leave a burning fusee at the same point as the first torpedo.

(b) Should the speed of a train be reduced and its rear there by endangered, making it necessary to check a following train before a flagman can get off, a lighted fusee must be thrown off the train on the track at intervals to insure safety of the leading train.

(c) When a flagman is sent out with specific instructions affecting the rights of trains, such instructions must be in writing.

(d) When a flagman is sent to a station on a train, he will ride on the engine and enginemen must stop and let him off at the first switch.

Above Rule to be applied for the protection of trains within the State of Louisiana in addition to Rule 99.

A Railroad Company has the right to eject from its train any passenger or person who refuses upon demand to produce a proper ticket or other transportation or satisfactory evidence of his right to ride, or to pay his fare to destination; any drunken or disorderly person whose conduct is such as calculated to operate as a serious annoyance to other passengers, or a passenger who is guilty of gross misconduct, either by insulting or assaulting other passengers, or train employees, who uses vile or profane language in the car or who threatens to assault any passengers or train employees, whether he has paid his fare or not. In such cases such passengers or person may be expelled from the train at any point along the line, whether at a depot or elsewhere, except in case the passenger or person is unable by reason of age, sex, infirmity or other condition or circumstances to travel from the place of ejection to a dwelling house or town, or in case of a great distance, inclement weather, darkness or other condition or circumstances, rendering it unsafe, frightful or dangerous for such passenger or person to travel to the nearest dwelling or town; then in any such cases such passenger or person should be expelled at a station where reasonably safe and comfortable accommodations can be secured.

Engineers are cautioned against any failure to comply with the law concerning whistling and bell ringing and are instructed to use both the bell and whistle at highway crossings.
