IT'S EASY TO USE THE "L"

There is no guess work or uncertainty when you ride the "L". Trains are plainly and clearly marked, and directional signs inside and outside of stations and on platforms aid you in reaching your destination.

This folder map has also been prepared to help you make best use of fast, convenient Rapid Transit Service. Carry it with you . . . you'll find it invaluable in reaching all sections of Chicago and north and west suburbs.

In addition there is a large, complete map of Chicago posted in "L" stations, and an "L" Station Guide in all Cars. For any other information about Chicago and suburbs Ask Any "L" Employe.

TRAIN SIGNS

Signs posted on the front end of all "L" trains and on the side of cars, indicate the class of train and destination. When trains operate around the Loop, head-end train signs remain the same in both directions until the train returns to its original starting point.

DIRECTIONAL SIGNS

"To City" and "From City" signs, with light on bell indicators showing direction of travel of approaching trains, are placed in stations, at stairways or in other conspicuous locations. "City" refers to the downtown Loop District.

Signs in stations and on platforms in the Loop indicate destination and class of trains available from each station.

Numerals above station-designation signs on platforms indicate street number location of stations. N-800—W-300, for example, indicates 800 North and 300 West from the center of the city at State and Madison Streets.

There IS only one form of Rapid Transit!

For most of Chicago there is only one kind of RAPID transportation—the Elevated Railroad!

With its 5,383 trains every working day, speeding along elevated tracks, up ABOVE tangles of street traffic, or operating on private right-of-way, the "L" provides a service that is as different from any other as day is from night.

Its protected platforms, heated trains and comfortable stations, combined with nearly half a century of service uninterrupted by storms, make you independent of weather, street congestion or worries of surface travel.

The "L" is the backbone of Chicago's transportation.

Its fastest express trains make non-stop runs as long as eight miles at speeds faster than the fastest runs in the New York subways.

Only the "L" relieves congestion on crowded city streets—street cars, motor coaches, taxicabs and automobiles increase it.

Ride the "L" over jammed intersections instead of creeping through them. Travel in comfort . . . free from nervous tension and irritations of frequent starts and stops. Get There! Ride the "L"!
