EIGHTY MINUTES
ON THE WAY

OF COURSE, you will spend the week or part of it in San Jose, the charming resort city of fruit and flowers, surrounded by the wonderful fruit valley of Santa Clara.

Here, fruit culture is at its best. Here, in this valley are canyon parks with hot and cold mineral springs, baths, aviaries, animal parks, and most picturesque walks and drives. Here is the great Lick Observatory on Mt. Hamilton looking down on San Jose from almost a mile above. Here, in the valley, is the Stanford University with its magnificent cluster of buildings. Here, in the city itself, is the ostrich farm of Northern California. From San Jose radiate electric lines through orchards and foothills, giving enchanting views with rides of from three to seventeen miles. Here in the Santa Clara Valley are quick-silver mines and seed farms, golf links and yacht clubs, a half dozen fruit canneries and forty cured fruit packing houses, an old mission (Santa Clara, 1777), and, of most importance, two first class tourist hotels, one in its own park of twelve acres, with splendid service, automobile garage, bowling alleys, bathing pavilion, etc. Nearby are the lively towns of Palo Alto, Mountain View, Santa Clara, Sunnyvale, Campbell, Los Gatos, Morganhill, Gilroy, and others.
