SECTION 3
LIST OF INDUSTRIES HAVING SIDINGS
IN PHILADELPHIA, PA.
ALSO
LIST OF INDUSTRIES WITH CARLOAD DELIVERY
ORDERS, DESIGNATED DELIVERIES, AND STATION JURISDICTION
IN PHILADELPHIA, PA.
ON PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

SECTION 3

RULE	RULES GOVERNING SECTION 3
A	Regulations governing the forwarding of carload and less-carload freight for Philadelphia, Pa., when consigned to FIRMS OR INDIVIDUALS HAVING PRIVATE SIDINGS on the Pennsylvania Railroad, Philadelphia, Pa., as listed on Pages 61 to 85. (For List of Freight Stations, Public Delivery or Team Tracks, see Page 60.) (a) Carload and less carload freight for parties named in the alphabetical list of private sidings, unless otherwise consigned, should be waybilled to station shown in Column headed "Station Jurisdiction." See Pages 61 to 84. (b) When more than one delivery is shown in this Section for the same consignee, the shipper should be required to specify the delivery desired. (See Note). (c) As parties named in the alphabetical list may require deliveries other than those specified in the list, agents should forward to the delivery shown only when same is not contrary to shippers' instructions. (d) The numbered streets in Philadelphia run north and south and in the great majority of instances the named streets run east and west. The house numbering plan in Philadelphia comprehends changing the number series with each numbered street, i.e., persons located between Eleventh Street and Twelfth Street would be in the 1100 series, between Twelfth and Thirteenth Streets in the 1200 series, etc. A consignee whose address is shown as 11th and Arch Streets should be treated as 1100 Arch Street and shipment waybilled accordingly. The first street from which houses are numbered is Delaware Avenue, and houses located between Delaware Avenue and Front Street (which is in reality First Street) would have numbers less than 100 and between Front Street and Second Street would be numbered in the 100 series. Broad Street is in reality Fourteenth Street, and a consignee's address shown as Broad and Columbia Avenue should be considered as 1400 Columbia Avenue and waybilled accordingly. NOTE:-On pages 85 to 101 there is published carload delivery orders by various receivers of freight in Philadelphia, Pa., both with and without sidings indicating delivery desired when shipments are consigned simply to Philadelphia, Pa. Agents should be guided by this list as well as by the list of firms of individuals having private or assigned sidings.
B	(a) The Pennsylvania Railroad maintains approximately thirty freight stations in Philadelphia, Pa. If the delivery shown proves unsatisfactory, the remedy lies in specific routing instructions being given at point of shipment, i.e., name of station, as well as street address, both of which are essential to enable the delivering agent to give prompt notice of arrival at Philadelphia, Pa. (b) Less carload shipments consigned for a specific station delivery in Philadelphia, Pa., should not be loaded in a through car operated to another Philadelphia, Pa. Station delivery. If through service is in operation to a particular station in Philadelphia, Pa., that service should be called to attention of shipper and opportunity given to specify that station on bill of lading. If shipper does not desire to change the destination specifying the station to which through service is operated, the shipment should be loaded to proper transfer to effect delivery to destination station. (c) Each station in Philadelphia, Pa. has been assigned a number (See List of General Deliveries in Philadelphia, Pa., Pages 45 to 47, also numerical List Page 60, corresponding to the number assigned to the street) indicating approximately the nearest delivery, to the address or location to which freight should be forwarded WHEN STATION DELIVERY IS NOT SPECIFIED BY SHIPPER. When station delivery is specified, shipment should be forwarded to that station to comply with shipping instructions regardless of the delivery indicated herein. Shippers may consign freight to any Philadelphia, Pa. station, as indicated, under List of General Deliveries in Philadelphia, Pa., Pages 45 to 47, and restrictions published in C.T. 352, governing delivery of Perishable shipments, High Explosives, Inflammables, etc. (d) Pages 48 to 58 show list of Streets, Avenues, etc., in Philadelphia, Pa., indicating station location at which Carload and Less Carload freight for the various sections of the City can be handled to the best advantage when station delivery is not specified by the shipper. (e) It will be observed that in the groups shown, for example Group 70, five stations numbers are designated for the reason that streets included in that group extend the entire width of the City, therefore, streets embraced in this group are divided in five zones to accomplish a reasonably convenient delivery to a specified address when station delivery is not indicated in shipping directions. (See Illustration). (f) If consignee cannot be located on pages 45 to 101, Agents should forward freight in accordance with nearest station delivery, as shown on Page 60 ILLUSTRATION If a carload or less carload shipment is tendered showing an address in Philadelphia, 634 Market Street for instance, and no station delivery is specified, Agent should first determine by reference to pages 61 to 101 if consignee has a siding; also refer to pages 85 to 101 to determine whether carload delivery order is on file; if not then refer to pages 48 to 58 locating Market Street on page 53, where reference is made to Group 70 and in the column under Street Address opposite Group 70 the nearest point of delivery is indicated.
C	All carloads, consigned to the firms named in Section 3, Pages 61 to 101, must be delivered at the points shown in column headed "Station Jurisdiction" unless consigned specifically to some other Pennsylvania Railroad Delivery, in which case they must be forwarded to the point specified. Exceptions to the latter are designated by an asterisk (*) and in such cases the cars must be forwarded to the place named in column headed "Station Jurisdiction", regardless of billing. The deliveries shown herein are understood to conform to the general instructions for the delivery of freight in Philadelphia contained in C.T. 352, city deliveries sheets, as authorized by the General Superintendent Transportation. If consignee cannot be located in Section 3, Pages 61 to 101, Agents should forward freight in accordance with nearest station delivery as shown on page 60.
